NEW MEMBERS RECEIVED AT BETHEL PLAYERS MEETING TUESDAY

Bethel Players held an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Bryant with many new members joining at this time. This newly reactivated club's purpose to direct their efforts toward the continuance of the Bethel Youth Center has been well-accepted by all.

Plans were made to handle the refreshment booth on Mollyockett Day, with Mrs. Charles Farrar as chairman assisted by Mrs. Richard Thompson. Since the new Bethel Players were activated as a result of the high interest expressed during the Music Man Revue, it was decided to use this theme for the booth. Pictures of former Bethel Players productions will be on display as well as scenes from the Music Man Revue. Informative literature expressing the plans and aims of the new Bethel Players will be available.

Mrs. Addison C. Saunders will hold the next meeting at her camp at Songo Pond on August 13. Prospective new members are urged to make plans to attend.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Oxford County Economic Development Committee held a meeting a couple of weeks ago at Newry with the towns in this section of the county. The officers of the OCEDC explained the reasons for the formation of the group and some of the results that they hope to gain. Each town was given a comprehensive work sheet to complete. The work sheet contains questions concerning local facilities and activities, labor and industry, and public utilities. When all of the communities have completed their studies, then the information for the whole county will be incorporated into a study of the county. There will be a lot of information about the county in one place that is not available now. It can then be used by groups in the county to develop the county and it can be distributed to industrial and tourist groups to promote the area. The OCEDC should help the whole county and thereby each of the towns in the county.

The tarring has come to a standstill with about two days work left. There are enough other jobs to do before the road building is begun but it is nice to get one thing out of the way before another is started. About 44,000 gallons of tar have been applied and the estimated total of 50,000 will be used before the tarring is done.
Michael Houlihan

Speaking briefly on the program Saturday will be Reverend George Cyr, pastor of St. Theresa's Church, Mexico, Thomas L. Dickson, Town Manager Leo J. Morency, auxiliary president Mrs. Bernhard Mayer, president of the Hospital board Charles L. Ferguson, chief of the medical staff Dr. E. L. Elsemore and Reverend Harold R. BULLETIN:

FOA-5X additive in Shell Heating Oil helps protect your fuel system winter after winter

THERE'S a new additive in today's Shell Heating Oil. Called FOA-5X, it works round the clock to help guard your fuel system—from storage tank to burner head. FOA-5X helps reduce the build-up of heat-robbing deposits that can collect in sensitive areas of burner nozzles. It lets Shell Heating Oil burn in a radiant, even flame. It helps reduce service calls and expense. The result: more warmth per gallon of fuel—top heating performance at minimum cost.

Before you buy your next gallon of heating oil, call us. We will give you complete details about Shell Heating Oil with FOA-5X and about our services.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

THURSDAY, JULY 11

Read I John 1:5-2:2
"Him who comes to me I will not cast out." (John 6:37. RS V.)

One morning, my husband and I visited in the home of one of our daughters. Her husband had been away but returned home earlier than usual that day. One of our grandchildren, seven years old, was playing in a sandpile in the yard and did not know of his father's arrival. When the child saw him come out on the porch, he ran toward him. The child threw himself into his father's arms, just as he was—with dirty hands.

My first thought was to stop him until he washed his hands. But seeing that his father welcomed him joyously just as he was without worrying about the child's being dirty, I changed my mind.

I thought of God's great love that accepts sinners just as they are. In this incident I had a living example of the love of God for the sinner who rises from sin and throws himself, just as he is, into the arms of Christ.

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, we acknowledge our guilt as miserable sinners. Help us to lift ourselves from the dust and come to Thy Son just as we are. Redeem us and help us remain in Thy tender care. We pray in our Saviour's name. Amen.

Homes Abound with Potential Poisons, AMA Official Warns

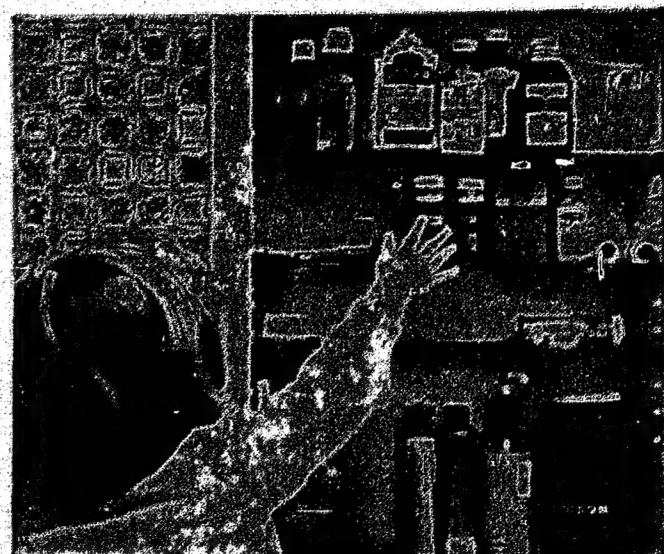

Children, supposedly "safe at home," are poisoning themselves at the rate of nearly 1,500 a day. "When you consider that more than a quarter million home-used products on the market contain toxins, it is not difficult to understand why more than 500 children die each year from self-administered poisons," said F. J. L. Blasingame, M.D., executive vice-president of the American Medical Association.

Children are naturally curious, especially the very young ones. They are prone to stick into their mouths anything they can get their hands on. It doesn't even have to taste good or look pretty.

Most accidental poisonings occur in children under five. Two-year-olds are the most poison prone, with one-year-olds close behind. At this stage in life their curiosity is at its height and their sense of fear not yet developed, Dr. Blasingame explained.

Medicine, especially aspirin, heads the list of items children seem to like to sample, accounting for nearly half of all accidental poisonings. In fact, too much of virtually any medicine can produce serious consequences.

Among the supposed non-edibles that frequently find their way into children's stomachs are cleaning and polishing agents, detergents, shoe polish, cosmetics, waxes, insecticides, paint, turpentine, chalk, bleaches, plant foods, plaster, perfume and decorations.

Medicines account for nearly half of all accidental poisoning in United States each year. Discard unused medicine and keep rest out of children's reach.

A primary cause of such accidents, says Dr. Blasingame, is storing poisonous substances in food containers or soft drink bottles. A toddler just naturally assumes that a soft drink bottle contains a treat. He'll drink whatever he finds in it.

"The facts are clear," he warned. "Between 65 and 70 per cent of all poisonings take place because an item was accessible to a child."

"If we're going to live in modern homes with modern conveniences and modern medicines, we have to develop some up-to-date standards that will make home safe for our children."

Among suggestions for lessening the poisoning hazards in the home, Dr. Blasingame suggested:

- Keep potential poisons out of reach and tightly sealed.
- Never transfer toxic materials into household utensils.
- Don't leave your child alone in a room in which you're working with poisons.
- Give medicines only in a lighted room.

If your child might have taken a poisonous substance, call your doctor for instructions at once. Don't wait to see what happens.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call from our midst our beloved brother, Guy Bartlett, and in view of the loss we have sustained in our grange and community—

Therefore be it resolved, that it is a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that, in regretting his passing, we mourn for one who was a faithful, diligent, and cheerful worker and friend, and one who will be greatly missed by all—

Therefore be it further resolved that we spread a copy of these resolutions upon our records, have a copy printed in the Bethel Citizen, and a copy sent to his bereaved family.

Corvair 700 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such faimliness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner.

And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more usable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no antifreeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

OH BACKWARD BEAR!

It looks as if Fidel Castro's government may have to convince the Cuban people that electricity is a bad thing and should not exist in a communist workers' paradise or that maybe it has just gone out of style.

Radio broadcasts from Cuba and reports from refugees indicate that Havana power stations and some of the stations in the interior are sliding into critical disrepair since new parts are no longer available for U. S. made machinery. Severe power rationing is threatened later this year and the government is appealing to the Cuban people to ration the use of electricity voluntarily as part of the revolutionary struggle. Unless promised new equipment shows up from communist bloc countries, the lights will go out in 1965.

Countries are for people to live in not for bullies to play with. It's time the collectivists came out of the political middle ages and hooked their bear up to the front end of the wagon.
